DUAL CREDIT CHECKLIST:

Course Name:	Intro to Psychology
Course Number:	PSYL1001
Program(s) to which this course can be applied:	General Arts and Science diploma or certification. This course can also be applied as a general education credit to any college program that requires general education.
Can this course be used as a General Education credit?	Yes.
Is there a hands-on component to the course? Please elaborate	Through the use of lectures, videos, case studies and discussions, students will learn about sensation, perception, memory and motivation as they gain an overview of the science of psychology.
Is there a textbook used with the course?	Students are expected to read assigned sections of the textbook provided.
What are the required assignments within this course?	Tests 75% In class assignments 25%

Additional Information: